A.S. Office Deadline Set; Six Petitions Out

Deadline for filing of petitions for student body offices is 10 a.m. Tuesday. Voting day for fall officers is scheduled for May 17 and 18, with the 19th being reserved for run-off elections if needed.

Six petitions have been taken out and are being circulated. Bob Fields is running for AS vice president; Garry Gerhardt for Associated Men Students president; Eveline Morris for Associated Women Students president; Harry Samuels and Robert Schoenburg for AS treasurer; and Nick Singer for AS president.

Announced at Prom

New officers will be announced at the Prom in the Beverly Hilton Hotel May 20.

A candidate for any office must be registered in at least 12 units at Valley and have a minimum grade point average of 2.0 at the time of mid-terms.

Executive Council positions for which petitions may be taken out include AS president, vice president, recording secretary, treasurer, commissioner of men's athletics, commissioner of women's athletics, AMS and AWS presidents, commissioner of activities, commissioner of assemblies and rallies, commissioner of publicity and commissioner of elections.

30 Units Needed

Candidates for the office of AS president must have completed 30 units of college work by the beginning of the semester during which he is to serve in office. The president, upon taking office, shall have the power to take charge of all the meetings of the Associated Students and the Executive Council, according to the AS constitution.

He shall be an ex-officio of all committees. He shall be vested with power to appoint and dissolve committees. In case of emergency, the president shall be vested with the power to act for the Associated Students as a whole.

The president shall have the power to veto any action taken by the Executive Council.

UCLA Physicist Will Lecture

Dr. Norman A. Watson, professor of physics at UCLA, will speak to the Superior Students' Physics Seminar today at 11 a.m. in Physics 100.

Dr. Watson, who studied at the University of California, received his Ph.D. degree in physics.

He will discuss general areas of research with special reference to junior, senior and graduate physics courses at UCLA.

All students, instructors and counselors are invited.

Engineer To Stress Technician Needs

Stressing the need for technicians, Lockheed Engineer Nelson C. Harnois will speak to students Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Engineering 102.

Harnois, Chief, Electronics and Armament Systems, Engineering, Lockheed, will speak on "The Productivity of the Technical Team."

Presented by the Engineering Department, the lecture will be given in cooperation with the Occupational Exploration Series.

Following the speech, the engineering faculty will meet with Harnois to exchange ideas on educational matters.

Air Force Sergeant To Discuss Careers

Recruitment for Air Force careers will be discussed by Sergeant Edmond Taylor Tuesday at 11 a.m. in B68.

Presented as a part of the Occupational Exploration Series, Sgt. Taylor will answer questions on phases of Air Force careers in the Quad.

Intramurals AMS Topic

Insurance coverage for intramurals was recommended at the Southern California Junior College Associated Men Students Convention at Orange Coast College Thursday.

Attending various convention workshops from Valley were Bob Fields, presidential; Al Haim, intramural; Dave Harrison, social; Brad Hight, service; and Harry Samuels, treasurers'.

Valley pointed out the need for insurance cogerage in intramurals and recommended that SCJCAMS look into the problem, said Haim. The resolution passed with a unanimous vote.

"Kermit Dale, assistant dean of student activities, and members of Executive Council now are looking into possible intramural insurance coverage," said Haim.

Three types of insurance plans discussed included an optional payment plan, insurance included as part of the student activity car dand mandatory payment of insurance.

"Some schools have highly advanced intramural programs," Haim added. "Compton College has boxing and wrestling, while other colleges have intra-club junior olympics."

Reschedule Balloting For King and Queen

By TONY CIFARELLI, Star News Editor

Conflicting time with the Band Concert and the threat of rain has forced the Fiesta Committee to reschedule the King and Queen Introduction Assembly for today, according to Nick Singer, committee chairman.

Sponsoring clubs will present three-minute skits to acquaint voters with their candidates at 11 a.m. in the Men's Gym. Voting was also rescheduled for today and tomorrow in the Quad area. Ballots may be cast from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. today and tomorrow and from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight.

14 Vie for Honors

Ten women and four men are competing for Fiesta King and Queen. Joel Schwarz has announced his withdrawal from the contest.

The Queen candidates and their sponsoring clubs are Sandra Bruckman, 20, International Club; Rosemary Castelli, 18, Newman Club; Sharon Farnon, 18, Sport Car Club; Pauline French, 18, Freshman Class; Carolyn Hinkle, 19, Natural Sciences; Sue Lipp, 17, Monarchettes; Karen McNamara, 18, Valley Associated Business Students; Judy Mertzel, 19, Speech Club; Charl Ann Raglin, 19, Music Club; and Betty Wilson, 19, Art Club.

The King candidates and their sponsoring clubs are Bob Fields, 18, Associated Men Students; Al Guglielmo, 19, Newman Club; Fred Scordino, 21, Music Club; and Bruce Zembly, Sport Car Club.

Spotlight to Shine on Queen

Coronation of the Fiesta King and Queen will take place Saturday at the Fiesta Dance. Due to the Metropolitan Conference Track Finals on Monarch Field, the dance will begin at 9:30 p.m. and end at 12 midnight. The time was moved ahead so as not to overlap with the track meet.

A new innovation will be introduced for the first time at the dance. To add suspense to the period leading up to the naming of the Queen, movies of all Queen candidates will be projected on the walls of the Gym, according to Al Haim, IOC chairman.

As the winning Queen is flashed on the screen, a spotlight will shine on the winning coed.

Dress will be sport, casual attire or western dress.

Hazy Williams and his eight-piece band will provide entertainment for the dance.

William J. McNelis, president, will crown the Queen and present her with a bouquet of orchids. The Queen will reign beside the King, surrounded by her two princesses and royal court.

"Miss Congeniality," a new award this year, will be presented the Queen candidate that best conveys to the other women the Fiesta theme and spirit. Each Queen candidate will vote for her choice.

Fiesta will be held Friday, May 13, on Monarch Field from 3:30 to 10:30 p.m. More than 30 club booths and exhibits from outside industries will provide entertainment.

Star Captures Eleventh Consecutive All-American

Receiving 17 excellent or superior ratings out of 23 categories, the Valley Star received its 11th consecutive All-American award from the Associated Collegiate Press this week. Judging from the Fall '59 issues, the ACP awarded 3570 points to the Star, 70 more than were necessary to qualify for an All-American rating.

Only three other papers received All-American ratings in the nationwide judging. The other winners are not presently known.

"You have established high standards for other newspapers with high quality reporting, writing, editing and makeup," said Judge Duane Andrews, former staff member of the Minneapolis Star-Tribune. Editor of lost winter's paper was Joel Schwarz, the current editor of the Star.

Assisting Schwarz on last semester's award-winning paper were Bill Milton, news editor; Arline Ballonoff, feature editor; Craig Altschul, sports editor; Tony Cifarelli, club editor; Tony Giaimo, art editor; M. G. Hutcherson, photography editor; and Dick Pardieck and Roger Graham, advertising managers.

Kenneth DeVol and Dr. Esther Davis are faculty advisers for the Star and photography department, respectivelyy.

An All-American award is the highest journalism rating which "indicates a distinctly superior achievement."

Judge Andrews was particularly impressed with the Star's editorial page.

"A very strong point," he said about the papers' editorial content. Andrews termed the editorial page features "among the best I've seen."

Mormon Choir Sings At Valley Tomorrow

The Southern California Mormon Choir, conducted by Frederick Davis, will present a singing program tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the Men's Gym under the sponsorship of the Athenaeum committee. The choir, consisting of 150 men and women, includes Mrs. Delilah Outram, Valley business instructor. Mrs. Outram has been a member since the choir was first organized about seven years ago. "A group of us were asked to sing at a Republican party rally and the response was so good that the choir has become a reality," she said.

The choir has appeared in the Hollywood Bowl, on national radio and television, the San Diego del Pacifico and has appeared nearly 100 times throughout California.

'All Amateurs'

"We're all amateurs who have jobs or are housewives," explained Mrs. Outram. "We pay all our own expenses." The group is non-sectarian, although many of the members belong to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, she said.

She pointed out the $25,000 that the choir donated to the Los Angeles Music Center Building Fund, becoming the first group of its kind to be a founder member, as an example to what the choir does with its revenues.

'Group Outstanding'

"It is recognized as one of the outstanding groups of its kind," said Miss Eckhardt.

The program is free to students, faculty and Athenaeum members. General admission is 50 cents.

Davis, who was born in Friendly Islands and was a Mormon convert in his early youth, was described by Mrs. Outram as an outstanding choir director. "Working with him is a music education in itself," she said.

In addition to being musical director of the Mormon choir, Davis also conducts the Ellis-Orpheus Club and the Women's Lyric Club. He is a member of the National Association of Singing Teachers and the National Association for American Conductors.

Play Ducats On Sale Now

Ticket reservations for the theater arts production, "Picnic," should be made as soon as possible because of the advance box office sales, according to Bob E. Davis, director of the play and theater arts instructor.

The Broadway hit, written by William Inge, will star Sharon Farnon as Madge and Mike Kuhn as Hal. Performances will start May 17 and run through May 28 in the Little Theater.

Tickets may be obtained at the Little Theater box office for $1 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. daily. Reservations also may be made by calling the theater arts department at ST 1-1200, Ext. 394.

All seats have been sold for the evening performance of Saturday, May 21. No extra chairs will be set up in the Little Theater during any performance, Davis said.

The part of Christine Schoenwalder has ben reassigned and now will be played by Dolores Flannery.

The theater arts department also announced that "Orpheus Descending," written by Tennessee Williams, will be staged during the summer session. It will run Aug. 1 through 6.

Casting for the play will take place place during early June, according to Peter Mauk, theater arts instructor and director of the play.

Concert Slates Cello Music

Music for cello and piano will be performed by a brother and sister team Tuesday in B74 as part of the Campus Concert Series at 11 a.m.

Miss Sharon Davis, pianist, and Douglas Davis, cellist, will perform the "First Sonata in E minor, Opus 38 for cello and piano" by Brahms and "Concerto No. 1" by Saint Seen.

Both are attending SC as music majors. Miss Davis entered SC on a scholarship from the Inglewood Arts Society in 1957. She has performed in various SC sponsored concerts and last spring soloed with the SC orchestra. Last summer she was granted a scholarship to the Aspen Music School.

Her brother, Douglas Davis, is a graduate of Polytechnic High School. He has soloed with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra under Alfred Wallenstein and John Barnett in the Symphonies for Youth Series and the National Symphony Orchestra under Howard Mitchell in the 1958 Merriweather-Post auditions in Washington, D.C. He is also the winner of the 1959 "Debut" Television Award.

Miss Davis and her brother have done several duo recital programs together.

COLLEGE TRANSFERS SHOULD APPLY

Students who plan to transfer to another college at the close of this semester should come to the Office of Admissions now to request Work-in-Progress and Final Transcripts be sent to that college, according to Mrs. Velma Olson, counselor. The Work-in-Progress, including all grades, will be mailed to the other college immediately, to be followed by the final transcript in June.

VABS Aid Fund

The twittering of a covey of musically inclined birds and the dental destroying volume of the public address system, even with their combined efforts couldn't drive the students out of the Men's Gym when they assembled for the VABS' inspired talent show last Thursday.

Although this assembly was at face value an entertaining hour, the actual motive was more than entertainment.

It seems that the VABS want to, and are trying to help the school and the student body. For the past semester they have been sponsoring the Occupational Series without much on-campus acclaim or voiced recognition.

Under the able and aggressive presidency of Joe Allegretti the VABS presented the idea of the talent assembly and the concept of Green and Gold fund week to IOC and have been one of the most active clubs in continuing it.

The funds are available for students to borrow from so that they may continue their education.

When the problem arose of Johnny Grant and Co. not being able to appear at a show where admission was charged, the VABS turned the program and fund drive over to IOC with an attitude that showed a devotion to the student body over public advancement of their club.

If the members of this club continue in the business world with the conscience and abjective manner in which they service the school, United States Steel and General Motors can be expected to have boards of directors populated with men and women who attended a relatively unknown junior college in a town just north of Hollywood.

Plans Foil Plans

The best laid plans of mice and men sometimes go astray, but Valley's plans just coincide. During one week of the college's calendar year, four events are conflicting with each other—this week.

More than six months ago, plans were set for the Band Concert, which was held in the Men's Gym Tuesday. Later, due to conflicting dates of Fiesta Week and the Metropolitan Conference Track and Field Finals, the program to introduce the Fiesta Queen candidates was moved to the same day—Tuesday.

Thus the Queen introductory program, which was one of the highlights of the Homecoming last semester, was placed on the calendar during the same hour the Band Concert was planned.

Saturday night Valley College will host the Metro track and field finals for the first time in the college's 10-year history. On the same evening the Fiesta Dance will open Fiesta Week.

It seems that better planning and scheduling could be given to such important events as these. Fortunately the queen introduction assembly was changed to today at the same time the Inter-Organization Council was to meet.

Although the starting time of the Fiesta Dance has been moved to 9:30 p.m., the night track finals, nevertheless, will still conflict.

The planning of events of this caliber should be done with more discretion thus eliminating the conflict between important events that should be held on separate occasions.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — A Harvard student Democratic model convention last week voted Adlai Stevenson first on their list with balloting showing Senator Lyndon Johnson in second place. Senator John F. Kennedy, a Harvard graduate and university overseer, trailed badly in third place. Stevenson, a Princeton graduate, polled 850 votes with Johnson receiving 404 and Kennedy 267. The balloting took place with over 700 delegates participating in the convention.

JOHANNSEBURG, South Africa — The attractive daughter of David Pratt, the wealthy white farmer who wounded Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, last week lost her job as a model. Susan Pratt, 22-year-old brunet whose pictures have appeared in numerous newspaper and film advertisements throughout South Africa, was fired because "We can't afford to let politics or anything like that creep into our advertising," a representative of the advertising agency that employed her was quoted as saying.

Apathy Widespread; Stir Yourselves Out of Rut, Says Speech Instructor

Editor:

Please accept my thanks for the two editorials in last week's Valley Star ("Wake Up and Lead" and "A Waste of Time?"). The Quadwranglers are pleased to know that their efforts are appreciated. A lot of credit for their accomplishments is due to students Sheldon Schreiner, Bob Peak, Jim Cunningham, Teddi Reinherz, Bob Wulf, Al Broner and Charmaine Walker, who have been out there consistently seeing that things run smoothly.

Because of the apparent feeling that you and members of your staff have with respect to the regrettable overabundance of apathy toward vital issues that we find on our campus (indeed on most campuses in Southern California), I thought you might want to let your fellow students know of a couple of things they can do to stir themselves out of their rut. Here they are:

1. Go to hear Major Johns (not a military officer—that's his name), a 24 year old psychology major recently expelled from Southern University at Baton Rouge, La. for his participation in the student movement to gain equal rights for the Negro students in Baton Rouge to sit down with other patrons at the dime store lunch counters.

He will give an eyewitness account of what it was like to resist, passively, the unfair system of the South and its hostile supporters. The meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Holman Methodist Church, 3320 W. Adams Blvd., Los Angles. To help defray expenses of Johns trip, a donation of 50 cents for students and $1 for others is requested.

2. Any students interested in picketing local stores whose southern branches practice the un-American discrimination mentioned above may learn how he may participate by attending a Picketeers' Rally at 8 a.m. in the Garment Workers' Hall, 8th and Olive in Los Angeles, Tuesday, May 17, or by merely showing up at the Santa Monica or Westwood Woolworth store any day 11:30 to 5:30 or at Vermont Square Methodist Church, corner of Vermont and Budlong in Los Angeles any Saturday at 12:30 p.m.

3. Contribute time and money to the NAACP and CORE (Congress of Radical Equality) to further their important work.

4. See the undersigned if you want to help make democracy a living reality here in Los Angeles by forming a campus organization dedicated to achieving equality of opportunity in housing and jobs for students of all races and religions.

'Gulch' Revisited

Editor:

In the Valley Star of April 21, there appeared two letters congratulating you on your prize winning editorial concerning the billboard situation. I, too, take this opportunity to congratulate you, but I also think that a few facts should be brought to light having to do with another one of your editorials on the same subject. ("Tumbleweed Gulch Revisited," Feb. 11)

Last Wednesday Martin Sangster, a representative of the Foster and Kleiser company, was at Valley to inquire into the possibility of our use of one of their billboards.

It seems that in a meeting with company officials, Foster and Kleiser offered to donate one side of one of the billboards to the school and also give us an option to rent one of the remaining three sides.

They also promised to control offensive advertising and to clean up "Tumbleweed Gultch." This area has been cleaned up and the offensive advertising has been removed.

There was one slip up during a time when the company was changing owners and a beer advertisement appeared. This was a mistake and was quickly rectified.

Sangster feels that the company has made an honest effort to cooperate with the school and that you were quite unfair in calling for the removal of the billboards entirely.

As Commissioner of Publicity, I would like to apologize to Larry Bulling, Martin Sangster, and the Foster and Kleiser Company for the Star's editorial. I also hope that we will be able to continue cooperating with you and the company in the future.

Polish Health Administrator Compares Nursing Programs

By FRANK L. KAPLAN
Star Staff Writer

American student nurses receive a better training than Poland's future nurses, said Mrs. Jadwiga Izycka, assistant director of Poland's Ministry of Health, during her visit to Valley's nursing department Friday.

Although the Gomulka government has done much to advance health education, it cannot equal such programs as offered at UCLA, she added.

Mrs. Izycka has just finished a two-week tour of nursing schools in the Southern California area and next will attend the national convention of American Nurses in Miami, Fla.

The main setback in Polish education, she continued, has been the lack of well educated teachers as a result of so many being killed during World War II. Another reason why U.S. health education is superior to Poland's is because of the modern facilities that are available here, she explained.

Through textbooks which have been translated from English and other languages and by sending outstanding students to study in other countries, health education in Poland is improving, Mrs. Izycka commented.

"Right now we have students in American, Canadian and European universities," she said. "Very close relations have also been established with Czechoslovakia."

Most of the 3½ to 4 thousand nursing students in Poland receive a four-year training period, she declared. Then upon passing the state exam they usually enter a number of state controlled hospitals or the community health service.

These two areas, according to Mrs. Izycka, are the best paid in the Polish health system as far as nurses are concerned. She added that technicians and nurses in research laboratories also obtain a good salary because they "produce."

Although there are not too many private schools, some students may attend religious institutions to obtain their nurses training, she said, because freedom of religion exists in Poland.

When asked about a recent demonstration in a small Polish town because a church building was converted into a school, she answered, "Oh, I didn't even know of such a demonstration."

In their spare time, Mrs. Izycka went on to say, Polish students take field trips, attend the theater, ballet, some social events and scientific discussion programs.

Regarding health insurance, she explained that the majority of the Polish population had state insurance for complete care during sickness. Some small, independent farmers and businessmen, however, receive from the state only free TB tests and maternity care for the mother and up to one year of free care for the child.

While here she also visited the Valley Presbyterian Hospital where Valley's student nurses will receive part of their training.

Mrs. Izycka was guest of the nursing department at a luncheon with Dr. Stewart Marsh, dean of instruction; Dr. John Reiter, coordinator; and Robert Nassi, dean of admissions and guidance.

A Lighter Budget?

Although the slogan "It's time for a change" helped elect a president in 1952, these five words are exactly what's needed to improve Valley's 25 per cent taxation plan.

Under this plan, a campus organization is required to turn over 25 per cent of the profits it earns from any fund-raising project to the treasury of the associated students.

These funds are later incorporated into the AS budget and may be doled out for athletic equipment, convention expenses, salaries or any of a variety of subjects listed in the AS budget.

Every organization, regardless if it is a service, honorary or social group, must pay this 25 per cent tax.

But it is time for a change. Service organizations like the Knights and Coronets use their funds to sponsor drives which benefit both the school and the community. The Knights' Magazines for Friendship project and the Coronets' old clothes collection are but two examples of the services performed by these organizations.

When organizations such as these hold fund raising activities, the money realized is used as capital to sponsor additional service projects.

Why hamper the initiative of service organizations by cutting their capital? All the present system of taxation is doing is preventing the service organizations from exercising their potentialities.

Honorary and social clubs may then argue why they should still have to shell out 25 cents per dollar made, while service organizations are exempted.

Although the next solution may not be economically feasible at this time, it would help finance the sagging Green and Gold fund while cutting the club tax load at the same time.

The interest free Green and Gold fund makes it possible for many students to attend college who would otherwise not be able to do so. Unfortunately, the fund has steadily dwindled and needs some regular source of acquiring new revenue.

Instead of collecting the 25 per cent for the AS treasury, only 10 per cent would be collected and turned over to the Green and Gold fund. Clubs could be given points toward the IOC club trophy on the basis of how much they contributed to the fund.

The present 25 per cent plan can not be called "taxation without representation," however, something should be done to lighten their tax burden. After all, these clubs haven't been formed to support the student body.

Haim's Hassle

If this spring's Fiesta has any measurable degree of success, it will be due to one man—Al Haim, associated student vice president.

Alternately criticised and praised this semester, Haim has worked and planned for weeks at making Fiesta the most successful and profiitable event in the history of the college.

Haim has contributed services to Fiesta and other social functions during the semester as the chairman of Inter-Organization Council.

For the first time the activity will be held on Monarch Field. Haim is predicting the "best" Fiesta since the event was established in 1951. More than 30 booths and displays from outside industries will be exhibited.

Haim has reflected new ideas into all activities surrounding Fiesta. At the Fiesta Dance films of the Queen and her court will be projected on the wall to accentuate the final climax of announcing the winner.

Further plans will be presented in the future by Haim. He is currently awaiting final information regarding support of IOC clubs.

Club subsidy, which was denied two weeks ago, may yet be presented by the next term.

At the California State Junior College Student Government Convention this semester, Haim brought forth two resolutions which will warrent consideration in the future.

He presented the idea of forming a Western Regional board of governors at the convention. This would enable each student body president from junior colleges to meet and exchange information dealing with problems they are confronted with at their schools.

Haim also backed an insurance plan which could enable colleges to establish a system covering students participating in intramural sports.

Whether praising or criticising Haim for his actions the fact remains he has accomplished more, with less help, than any vice president before him.

* * *

Haim's most immediate problem occured last week when the French Club announced its withdrawal from IOC. He felt that this unexpected separation would set a bad precedent in years to come.

"The only thing we can do now is to revise the Executive Council and IOC Constitution to make it clear on the powers of a club," Haim stated.

Haim objected to the purpose of the French Club Constitution which states: "The objects of this society shall be: to cooperate with the sponsor and the officers for the benefit of all the members. . . ."

Another objection stemmed from a section under the title of Meetings. "No descision is official without the approval of the sponsor."

"The clubs in IOC are for students," said Haim. "Sponsors should advise and demand respect. But he shouldn't be the president, vice president and secretary of the club. Students of Valley are adult enough to be respected for their affairs."

The only solution, as it stands now, would be a peaceful collaboration of all those involved. This is essential for the survival of IOC.

Art Instructors Edit Magazine

Miss Harriet Baker and Mrs. Zella Margraff, art instructors, are contributing editors to Creative Crafts, a bi-monthly magazine for craftsmen.

The associate editor, Miss Baker, has contributed an article in the current edition and an article by Mrs. Margraff, associate editor, will appear in next month's edition.

Published by Fred De Linden, the cost is $5 a year for six editions.

Rivera Leads Theater Tour

A tour of Central European theater capitals will be conducted this summer by Robert L. Rivera, theater arts instructor. Included in the 23-day trip will be theaters in England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Holland, Italy and Monaco.

Between visits to theaters and seeing plays, sightseeing tours will also be conducted, according to Rivera.

"In order that students who plan to attend sumer school may take this trip, plans have ben made to leave after summer school is finished," he said. The entire trip, which includes jet flights from Los Angeles and back, will cost $1095.

In England the tour will visit Stratford on Avon, the land of William Shakespeare. Comedie Francaise and the Folies Bergers will be the main attractions in Paris.

Traveling through the German-speaking countries, the tour will see the William Tell pageant in Switzerland, the famous Passion Play that is put on once every 10 years in Oberammergau, Germany, and plays in Innsbruck, Austria.

Further information may be obtained from Rivera in the theater arts department office.

The trip may be taken on a "travel now and pay later basis," said Rivera.

Salesmen 'Tag' Crown Sales

Finding Crown salesmen is no chore, as yearbook sales swing into the third week.

Seven salesmen are covering the campus daily, selling subscriptions to the 1960 Crown for $3.50. They can be recognized by bright gold tags they are wearing.

Crown's can also be purchased daily at noon in the Quad from a booth manned by members of the Patricians service club. Fiesta guests will find Crown salesmen at the Beta Phi Gamma exhibit.

Salesmen will be in the foyer of the Admissions Office every day to take orders. If all other efforts to locate a salesman fail, Crowns can be purchased from Miss Aura-Lee Ageton, business adviser, in Administration 124.

Alumni Association Starts To Strengthen College Ties

President of the Alumni Association, Fred Deluca, will visit the Executive Council during its meeting today and later meet with administrators of the college to discuss plans for strengthening the association.

This visit is a result of a recent luncheon meeting of the Executive Council Alumni Association Committee of: William J. McNelis, president of the college; James Cox, newly appointed association sponsor; Mrs. Nena Royer, dean of student activities; Kermit Dale, assistant dean of student activities; and Dr. Esther Davis, director of public relations.

Roger Graham, chairman of the committee, proposed that a closer relationship should be established between the alumni and college through newsletters, membership cards and meetings.

A printed newsletter will be sent out to inform the alumni about Valley College news. The membership card will enable alumni members to get a discount on all the major activities the college presents.

"Since we are expanding, the college could benefit greatly by having a closer relationship with an alumni association," McNelis said.

A file is now being made up of names of the almni in order to get a good turn out for a meeting scheduled for May 27, said Deluca. About 200 names are now on file.

"The main reason for having a strong alumni association is to help the college and get community recognition," he explained.

Bradbury Speaks to Scribes Today

Science-fiction writer Ray Bradbury will speak on creativity at the Writers' Club Annual Spring Luncheon today at noon in the Colonial House in North Hollywood.

There is a possibility that tickets for the luncheon still will be available, according to Sylvain Bernstein, club sponsor. Tickets may be obtained for $3 from Bernstein in B35 or from any Writers Club member.

For the first time the Writers Club has invited any interested nonmember, whether on campus or in the community, to attend.

Bradbury, author of several best sellers, is scheduled to speak on "Creativity and How I Get Story Ideas."

In addition to short stories, featured in national publications, radio and televiison, Bradbury has written "Dandelion Wine," "Martian Chronicles," "Fahrenheit 451," "The October Country," and "A Medicine for Melancholy."

Engineers Discuss Ideas for Emblem

Ideas for a club emblem were discussed by the members of Engineering-Science Club at their regular business meeting Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Engineering 102.

Election of club officers to serve until the conclusion of the current semester, took place at the meeting of April 26. Elected were Tom Rollo, president; Wallace Cook, vice president; D. Gerard Lamb, recording secretary; Frank Harryman, corresponding secretary; and Art Fliege, treasurer.

In an effort to form a club library, the ESC is accepting any donations of technical, scientific or electronic magazines. For further information regarding donations, contact Gerard Lamb.

Behavioral Sciences Offer Scholarship

Scholarships totaling $200 have been made available to graduating sophomores by the Behavioral Sciences Club and will be presented at the club scholarships banquet June 3.

To be eligible, students must have maintained a 3.5 cumulative average and intend to major or minor in any of the Behavioral Sciences which include anthropology, psychology, sociology or philosophy.

The last day to file an application with Mrs. Janet Hodgkins, psychology instructor, in B35A is May 12.

Dr. Walter Bailey, sociologist and a member of the school of Social Welfare at UCLA, will present a discussion on drug addiction May 12 at 8 p.m. in Physics 100 presented by the Behavioral Science Club.

All students and members of the community are welcome to attend.

Monarchettes Slate Drill Tryout Dates

Tryouts for Monarchettes, the college drill team, will begin May 23 and continue until May 27, according to Marilyn Gonder, team captain. Tryouts will be conducted from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Men's Gym.

Madrigals Perform For Music Teachers

Valley College Madrigals will be heard Tuesday by the San Fernando Valley Chapter of the California Music Teachers Associtaion at 8:30 p.m. in a private home.

Ruth Conklin and Bill Mathais will be featured soloists.

Selections by Dowland, Hassler, Lassen, Des Pres, and Gastoldi will be performed.

TV Shows Boy's Spirit

A 7-year-old boy who has been before X-ray "cameras" most of his life will go before a different kind of camera tomorrow, partly because of the work of Valley students.

Lloyd Done, who was born with a hole in his heart, will relive the past few months in front of television cameras tomorrow, as he recalls how Valley College students Gary Clemons brought the support he needed for his May 19 operation.

The appearance has been set for 9:30 a.m. on Jack Linkletter's "On the Go" television show.

Clemons heard of Lloyd's need for 17 pints of blood for the corrective operation and appealed to Valley students through an article in the Valley Star. Many of the 28 pints finally donated in Lloyd's name were given by Valley students.

From the article in the Star, interest in Lloyd's plight snowballed. Community newspapers, then Linkletter's "On the Go" became involved in Lloyd's future.

The program is set for release in some 140 cities throughout the nation.

Working Mom Topic For Quad Wranglers

The problem of working mothers and their contribution to the juvenile delinquency of children left alone at home will be discussed by Mrs. Thelma Johnson, speech student, at 11 a.m. in the Quad. Wranglers open debate today.

"Mothers are needed at home regardless of whether they need to work or not," said Mrs. Johnson. "Many mothers work because they want a second car, a swimming pool or a high fidelity set."

Pick Renegades in Metro Finals Saturday

'Two' Magic Number For First Place Nine

Needing any combination of two wins or two Long Beach losses to clinch Valley's first Metropolitan Conference baseball championship, Coach Charlie Mann's league leading Monarchs meet last place Bakersfield this afternoon on Pike Field. Game time is 3 p.m. A Monarch win would mathematically assure Valley of at least a tie for the Metro title.

Valley smashed the Renegades, 13-7, earlier this year with a pair of late inning rallies that overcame a 7-1 Bakersfield advantage.

Now boasting a 10-1 conference record after a pair of one-run wins over East Los Angeles and Santa Monica, Valley leads the second place Vikings by two full games. Long Beach virtually eliminated El Camino from the title with a 15-6 win over the Warriors, who now trail Valley by three games.

The Monarchs travel to Harbor next Tuesday to face the team that handed Valley its only conference defeat, 4-3.

Tuesday, Valley called Bruce Luedtke in from the third base coaching box to pinch hit for Buster Mann in the bottom of the ninth inning and Luedtke responded with a game-winning four-bagger to deep center field.

Mike Baker led off the Monarchs' last time around with a bloop single and circled the bases when Sherwin Minster and Dave Miller followed with two more hits.

A daring double steal sent Minster home and Miller to second.

After Tom Garner popped out, Mann called in Luedtke and the Monarchs had won their ninth straight conference game.

In posting a 4-3 win over East Los Angeles the Monarchs had to survive a last inning uprising by the Huskies. Valley led 4-2 in the top of the ninth, but East LA quickly loaded the bases with one out.

One run scored on a double play attempt but pitcher Buster Mann bore down on the next hitter to preserve the win. All three of the Huskie runs were unearned as Valley committed five errors.

East LA tied it up in the third but doubles by Baker and Miller in the same stanza gave Valley the lead, 3-2.

The eventual winning run came across in the eighth on a single by Baker, a walk and another hit by Garner.

Buster Mann was the winning pitcher in both games.

Monarch Netters In Metro Finals

A total of six men will be sent to compete in the Metropolitan Conference Tennis Championships this Friday and Saturday at El Camino.

The men who have been selected are Benny Inez and Tom Peterson to compete in the championship division and Tom Allen, Jerry Dempwolf, Larry Grosberg, Steve Orson, and Tony Zenen, who will compete in the B division.

The men who reach the quarter-finals in this tournament will be eligible to go on to the Southern Regional Tournament in Cerritos next weekend.

In the faculty tennis match held Monday, the faculty came very close to being blanked. The only member of the faculty to win was Mathews, who defeated Inez.

Monarch 'Zorros' Head for Big Meet

Valley's fencing team has been invited to attend a fencing meet at San Francisco State College, to be held Saturday, May 21.

They will be competing in foil competitions only, with Northern California two-year colleges, San Jose State College and San Francisco State. Both men's and women's teams will participate, according to John Tatum, coach of the Lion team.

In last year's competition, Valley's foilers gained second place, loosing only to Berkeley.

Larry Berman, Frank Kaplan and Marty Katz will make up the main part of the men's team. The women's team has not been announced yet, according to Tatum.

Banner First Olympic Hope For Monarchs

By DUDLEY NICHOLSON
Star Sports Writer

Valley College may have its first Olympic product when the torch burns in Rome this August. Larry Banner, 1954-55 gymnastic standout while at Valley, placed ninth in the list of Olympic possibilities.

The Amateur Athletic Union held its all-around gymnastic championship at West Point Saturday and Banner came out ninth in the standings.

The 12 top placers stay in New York for two weeks to compete against each other. Judges will pick six men and two alternates for the summer games.

Led Gymnasts

While at Valley, Banner led the Lion gymnasts to two conference championships in the pioneer days of the Metro Gymnastic Conference. Metro consisted of only four teams, Valley, Harbor, East Los Angeles and Santa Monica.

He attended Van Nuys High and was city champion in parallel bars and long horse. Banner also won all-around, parallel bars and long horse in the state finals held at Los Angeles City College.

In the AAU Nationals, held at San Fernando High School in 1954, Banner placed second in long horse behind Charlie Simms.

Sixth in National

When the Nationals came around in 1955, he placed sixth on the rings and long horse. Neither place was quite good enough to put him in the Olympics.

Meanwhile, this year's edition of the Lion gymnasts combined their efforts to score 29½ points, which was good enough to place them third at the Southern California gymnastics finals behind LACC and East Los Angeles.

Highest Honor

The highest honor of the day was taken by Terry Hale, who scored 106.4 points to win all-around.

LACC dominated almost every event, winning its 20th in 21 years. East Los Angeles was second with 35½ points, Trade Tech and Mt. San Antonio tied for fourth with 15 and Pasadena was only a half-point behind for sixth.

UP IN THE AIR—Dan Martin flies over the bar during early season meet. Martin cleared a record 13 feet 9½ inches in the Southern California Junior College Relays at Santa Ana Saturday. He will compete in the Metropolitan Conference track finals tomorrow night.

Monarch Field Scene Of Night Cinderfest

By JOEL SCHWARZ, Star Sports Writer

Defending conference champion Bakersfield College is a strong favorite to capture its fourth consecutive Metropolitan Conference track and field finals title Saturday night on Monarch Field. Field events begin at 7 p.m. with the first race scheduled to start one-half hour later. Bakersfield qualified 22 athletes at Tuesday's conference premilinaries held on Monarch Field. Valley and Long Beach, which are expected to fight it out for the runner-up spot, each qualified 17 contestants.

East Los Angeles and Harbor qualified nine men, San Diego and Santa Monica eight and El Camino five.

Records in Danger

Six conference records are in danger of being broken Saturday night, the 100, 220, 440, 880, low hurdles and pole vault.

The half-mile is most likely to produce a new record with a tremendous rematch between Valley's Tom Webb and Bakersfield's Leland Sheppard leading a classy field.

Webb smashed Sheppard's year-old conference record Tuesday with a sensational 1:54.3 clocking and beat the 1959 Metro champ by almost five yards. Walt Lewis, who held the Monarch record of 1:55.8 along with Webb for only one week, won his heat in 1:56.1 and is expected to push his teammate and Sheppard for top honors.

In the century Renegade Dennis Johnson will go after the Metro mark of 9.6 held jointly by Harbor's Willie White and Roscoe Cook of San Diego. Johnson has already run 9.5 this year. Bob Guerin, who won the third 100 heat Tuesday in 10.0 is Valley's only entry.

Johnson, Buchanan Tangle

Johnson and Ed Buchanan of San Diego will hook up in the 220 and could smash Dick Dorsey's conference record of 20.7. Both won heats in the prelims and Buchanan blazed a 20.8 furlong earlier this year.

Buchanan, if he is pushed, may also set a new standard in the 440. Another San Diegan, Bobby Staten, now running for SC, holds the current mark of 47.2. Monarch Brad Bechtol, with heats of 21.6 and 49.5 is a threat for Valley.

Led by Dan Martin, who established a new Valley record of 13 ft. 9½ in. last Saturday at the Southern California Relays, nine pole vaulters will be after Micky Myers year-old mark of 14 ft. 2½ in. Joining Martin will be three other Lion vaulters, Jerry Betz, Ray Hall and Jack Schwella, who cleared the 12 ft. 6 in. qualifying height.

Dee Andrews of Long Beach who coasted to a 23.6 flight of lows Tuesday, may break Willie White's 23.1 record if he gets any competition. Andrews is also favored in the high hurdles. Howie Smith and Betz will run for Valley in the highs while Marc Berkowitz and Paul Griffith compete in the lows.

Martin Qualifies

Martin qualified for the finals in two other field events, the high jump and the broad jump. He is currently fifth in the broad jump with a leap of 22 ft. 3 in. and cleared 5 ft. 10 in. in the high jump to advance to the finals along with Monarch Lloyd Higgins and seven other athletes.

Alan Jacoby tossed the shot 47 ft. 5 in. for fifth spot among bulb throwing qualifiers.

Preliminaries were not held in the mile, two-mile and relay.

Tuning up for the conference meet, Valley finished a strong second in the large school division of the Southern California Relays with 59½ points behind Western States Conference champion Los Angeles City College's 79½.

Swimmers Qualify

Qualifying for the California State Junior College Swimming Championships at Bakersfield will take place today, tomorrow and Saturday. The Valley swim squad has qualified six men in seven events.

In the Southern California Championships last weekend Tom Ely, Ted Hollingshead, Dick Johnson, Dudley King, Pete Kriz, and Ted Walters all qualified.

The meet was won by Long Beach with 128 points, followed by Orange Coast, 94; Bakersfield, 39; Santa Monica, 33; Fullerton, 27; Valley, 22; Los Angeles City, 19; Pasadena, 14; Pierce, 10; Mt. San Antonio, 8; El Camino, 0.

League Games Open

The Intramural Softball League starts today at 11 a.m. All clubs and organizations are welcome to enter teams. Individual students wishing to participate are also welcome. Winners of the league will receive medals.

The group was the winner of the 'murals volleyball league. They will receive medals at the sports banquet in June.

Golfers Host Finals

Sepulveda Golf Course will be the site of the Metropolitan Conference golf finals Monday.

The games are expected to be close between El Camino, Santa Monica, Long Beach and Bakersfield, with Bakersfield receiving a slight edge, according to Coach E. Y. Johnson.

Lion's Den

Football's Not Everything!

Is football all anybody cares about around here?

From all outward appearances it would seem so. There is a "not-so-remote" chance that Valley will be host to the California JC baseball playoffs the end of May. Bring your deck chairs.

Possibly Kermit Dale, conference representative and assistant dean of student activities; Conley Gibson, bursar; Harry Samuels, ASB treasurer; and Steve Matthews, commissioner of men's athletics, were a bit lackadaisical in their actions to get decent bleachers for baseball games.

It almost looks as if this quartet were passing the buck and blaming the whole thing on red tape.

To be sure, some of the blame for no bleachers can be placed on red tape, but quite a bit of it has been the "football first" attitude of this school.

The people who erected Monarch Field were pushed and shoved like mad to meet a final deadline date of Homecoming. They met it.

Yet, when the baseball team is hosting its first baseball tournament, possibly winning its first championship and possibly gaining its first berth in the State play-offs, they can't even get some decent bleachers.

At the all-important El Camino baseball game, the current skimpy stands were jammed most of the ball game. People had to sit on the El Camino bench. Even President McNelis was standing. Gibson and Samuels were standing too.

Charlie Mann has been hollering for two years for adequate facilities. This newspaper has been pushing the "hurry up" all semester. Yet all anybody gives for an answer when asked why is "too much red tape."

If the Monarchs win the Metro flag, which now appears likely, they will meet the Western States Conference kings at the WSC home. Two games with Eastern or Central Conference teams will follow and either could be played here. The State title between the northern and southern champs will be played at the southern home. Pike's "bleacherless" Field?

However, if Valley is in the State title race, will Pike Field get the game without near adequate facilities? I rather doubt it.

Last week John Gustafson, ASB president, felt there is enough time to get them. But when he realized the uncertainty of the games being played here, he quickly changed his mind.

Now, if he actually thought bleachers could be installed in just four weeks, why has it taken two years to get nowhere?

There have been many problems with the companies who were supposed to put up the stands, but in two years with some effort on both sides, these problems should have been ironed out completely.

It is hard to place the blame on exactly who is responsible, but someone sure dropped the ball.

Football isn't the only sport around here. Everyone seems to be deeply involved in pigskin seating problems. Think about something other than football gang—it might be worthwhile.

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.
The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.
If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.
